SECTION 2 - WHY THE LOGO IS BEING REDESIGNED

- 1. What is the primary reason Zevantaa wants to redesign the current logo?
    - Response: The primary objective is to elevate the brand mark to look more premium, institutional, and authoritative. The current layout is not premium enough and lacks the strong graphic footprint needed to comfortably represent both core business verticals (B2B Recruitment and B2C Global Mobility) simultaneously without making either side look secondary.
- 2. What, if anything, does the current logo do well that should be retained?
    - Response: Retain our locked corporate color scheme: Deep/Noir Indigo (#0B132B) and Electric Mint (#00E676). The typographic clarity of the letterforms should be carried forward.
- 3. What specifically should NOT carry forward from the current logo?
    - Response: Completely remove any weak spacing layout, cramped letter kerning, or thin line structures that diminish our institutional authority.
- 4. How much change is acceptable?

    - Response: Significant redesign with some continuity. We require a fresh, highly sophisticated structure while firmly keeping our approved name styling and corporate color palette.

- 5. Is there any existing audience, client, partner or stakeholder recognition attached to the current mark that makes continuity important?
    - Response: No. As an emerging startup navigating our foundational phase, we have complete freedom to deploy a highly optimized, dominant brand identity from day one.

SECTION 3 - BRAND MEANING & STRATEGIC IDENTITY

- 6. What does the name "Zevantaa" mean or represent to the founders?
    - Response: The name "Zevantaa" represents global paths, premium mobility, and elite corporate growth. It is designed to act as a trustworthy symbol of institutional accuracy and zero-error processing for both individual applicants and corporate boards.
- 7. When someone sees the new logo for the first time, what three perceptions should it create before they read any supporting text?
    - Response: Authoritative, Premium, and Secure.
- 8. Which single idea should the logo express most strongly?
    - Response: Institutional Credibility.
- 9. Which brand attributes must the logo avoid communicating?
    - Response: It must strictly avoid looking like a cheap travel company, a mass-market coaching institute, a local visa agent, or a flashy, un-calibrated tech startup.
- 10. Should the identity feel more established/institutional or more modern/progressive?
    - Response: 80% Institutional / 20% Progressive. The core aesthetic must look established and trustworthy to premium corporate directors and high-ticket candidates, while using clean modern layout spacing.

SECTION 4 - BRAND ARCHITECTURE & NAMING

- 11. What should be the primary brand name displayed in the logo?
    - Response: ZEVANTAA or Zevantaa (Clean, bold, typography-led styling).
- 12. Should "Careers Pvt Ltd" appear in the primary logo, only in formal/legal applications, or not as part of the visual mark?
    - Response: "Careers Pvt Ltd" should appear as a clean, smaller typographic lock-up in the primary logo, but the visual mark must remain scalable so the icon/monogram can sit standalone when needed.
- 13. Is there an approved tagline that must be part of any logo lock-up?
    - Response: No tagline is required inside the core logo mark to ensure the design stays clean and clutter-free.

- 14. Do you expect the Zevantaa brand to expand into additional services or business verticals over the next 3-5 years?
    - Response: Yes. Over the next 6 to 12 months, our layout scales across several new sectors: Information Technology (IT), Healthcare & Nursing, Core Engineering, Finance, Hospitality, Education, Consumers, and Pharmaceuticals. The mark must remain corporate and geographically neutral to support global business scaling.
- 15. Should Recruitment and Global Mobility ever have separate sub-brand marks, or should both always sit under one Zevantaa master identity?
    - Response: Both verticals must always sit under one unified Zevantaa master identity to concentrate our brand equity and optimize our budget.

SECTION 5 - SYMBOL, WORDMARK & CREATIVE TERRITORY

- 16. Do you prefer the redesign to be primarily a wordmark, a symbol + wordmark, a monogram, or are you open to the strongest strategic solution?
    - Response: Symbol + Wordmark. We need an elite, recognizable symbol paired with a premium corporate wordmark.
- 17. Would the team be comfortable using a distinctive "Z" or "ZC" monogram as part of the identity?
    - Response: Open. A sharp, minimalist, geometric monogram (like a distinct "Z") is highly acceptable, provided it looks premium and professional.
- 18. Should the logo visually reference the 50/50 Recruitment + Global Mobility architecture, or should that duality remain in messaging rather than the mark itself?
    - Response: The duality should remain in the messaging and clean sub-text layout rather than splitting the literal mark into two halves. The symbol itself should focus on overall corporate trust and global expansion.
- 19. Which visual ideas or symbols are strictly off-limits?
    - Response: Airplanes, generic globes, passports, clip-art handshakes, colorful wings, briefcases, basic people icons, national flags, and all common immigration clichés are strictly off-limits.
- 20. Are there any symbols, shapes, cultural references or visual metaphors the founders strongly associate with Zevantaa and would like explored?
    - Response: Clean geometric lines, architectural grid alignments, and interlocking structures that convey precision, security, and global pathways.
- 21. Should the identity contain any explicit Indian/Kolkata origin cue, or should it remain geographically neutral and internationally scalable?
    - Response: It must remain completely geographically neutral and internationally scalable to attract global enterprise clients.

SECTION 6 - TYPOGRAPHY, COLOUR & VISUAL PERSONALITY

- 22. Confirm whether the new logo should remain within the documented Indigo + Mint/Emerald brand palette.
    - Response: Confirmed. It must stay within our palette: Deep Noir Indigo (#0B132B) and Electric Mint (#00E676). Sofiology has the creative freedom to subtly refine the color gradients to optimize contrast performance.
- 23. Should the logo work primarily in a dark-background environment, light-background environment, or equally well in both?
    - Response: It must work equally well in both environments. It must look crisp on a light background (white letterheads/proposals) and highly striking on a dark indigo background section (website blocks/social carousels).
- 24. Are there any colours Zevantaa must not use because of competitor similarity, cultural concerns, personal dislike or category confusion?
    - Response: Avoid bright red, yellow, generic blue, or loud multi-colored elements that look cheap, childish, or resemble budget travel agencies.
- 25. What typographic personality feels most appropriate?
    - Response: Refined Humanist Sans or Geometric Contemporary. The typography must look clean, custom-spaced, bold, and commanding.
- 26. Should the wordmark feel understated and premium, bold and commanding, or somewhere between?
    - Response: Somewhere between. It must feel bold and commanding enough to build instant authority, while remaining clean, understated, and premium.

SECTION 7 - REAL-WORLD USE & PERFORMANCE REQUIREMENTS

- 27. Where will the logo be seen most frequently during the next 12 months?
    - Response: 1. Website, 2. Documents/Proposals, 3. LinkedIn, 4. Instagram/Facebook, 5. Email Signatures & Business Layouts.
- 28. Will Zevantaa require a standalone icon/monogram that remains recognisable at very small sizes?
    - Response: Yes. A standalone icon layer is mandatory for our website favicon, mobile app icons, social profile images, and clean document stamps.
- 29. Are there any planned physical applications that impose special constraints?
    - Response: Yes. It must scale sharply for glass frosting at our headquarters, embossed corporate stationery, and crisp office wall branding.
- 30. Does the logo need to reproduce cleanly in one colour / black-and-white for legal, printing, stamping or documentation use?
    - Response: Yes, absolutely. The mark must function flawlessly as a single-color execution (pure solid black or pure solid white) for legal agreements and official corporate stamps.

- 31. Are there any specific minimum-size, embroidery, engraving or printing constraints we should know about?
    - Response: The lines must not be so thin that they blur or disappear when shrunk down to a 16x16 pixel favicon width or when engraved onto office materials.

SECTION 8 - COMPETITIVE CONTEXT & VISUAL REFERENCES

- 32. Which companies does Zevantaa consider its closest competitors or comparison set?
    - Response: Premium cross-border talent networks, elite global consulting houses, and established international mobility firms.
- 33. Which competitor identities do you feel are too similar to what Zevantaa should avoid?
    - Response: Avoid any agency layouts using typical circular globes, swooshing arrow lines, colorful checkmarks, or cluttered vector clip-art.
- 34. Share 5-10 logos or brands whose identity quality the leadership team admires.
    - Response: Elite global consulting brands (like McKinsey or BCG), premium wealth management portals, and minimalist tech platforms. We admire them for their typographic simplicity, high contrast, geometric discipline, and clean borders.
- 35. Share 3-5 logos/styles the leadership team strongly dislikes and explain why.
    - Response: We strongly dislike any loud, multi-colored layouts, generic retail-tier symbols, and flashy typography scripts that look cluttered or lack corporate gravity.

SECTION 9 - GOVERNANCE, LEGAL & APPROVAL

- 36. Who will be the final decision-maker for logo approval?
    - Response: Mr. Ratan J Mishra (Managing Director).
- 37. Who else should be included in the logo-review group?
    - Response: Ms. Debanjana Basu (Co-Director).
- 38. Does Zevantaa require trademark availability screening before final adoption of a new symbol/wordmark?
    - Response: Yes. Our internal board and legal desk will handle the trademark availability screening and legal clearance paths upon receiving the concepts.
- 39. Are there any registered marks, legacy brand elements, domain/social-handle constraints or legal naming requirements that the redesign must preserve?
    - Response: The mark must strictly match our officially registered corporate identity name: Zevantaa Careers Private Limited.
- 40. What would make the leadership team consider the redesign successful one year from now?
    - Response: The redesign will be a success if it establishes an ironclad, recognizable trust footprint in the market, helps our B2B wing secure high-ticket placement contracts, and passes our upcoming post-launch ISO data audits smoothly.
